THE PAVILION.

The JOURNAL reporter scanned the lower floor of the Pavilion, a report of which appeared in yesterday's JOURNAL. While the articles exhibited there have their uses, for the really beautiful, the visitor has to go upstairs. Sweets are always attractive, and on reaching the second story the reporter was drawn to the left. Mrs. Harting presided over the case of candies that would rival those of Parisian make. They represented almost every form from the chocolate, bon bons, marsh mallow, nut candies and an innumerable display of taffies. Under a card of "Nevada Cracker Bakery," was a case of crackers and cakes that would suit the taste of the most fastidious epicure. The specimens of wedding cakes were numerous, and the ornamentalities of the most attractive character. Next along the wall is a fine display of undertaking goods, and adjacent is a collection of bouquets from dried nature flowers prepared by H. F. Rhodes, of Truckee. The familiar quilts, crocheted robes, rugs, needle work, paintings on velvet and other materials, crayons, among which is the truthful face of Sam Davis, editor of the Carson Appeal, covered the south wall, near which stood a case in which is a most exquisite lot of set of white satin, ornamented by figures and flowers put there by a knowing hand. The southwest corner is ornamented by a display of elaborate needle work, the chief among which was a fine screen, and an embroidered black silk dress. On either side of this are organs and pianos of superior make. Near by is the tasteful selection of goods from the store of F. Levy & Bro. This exhibit consists of carpets, rugs, curtains, ladies' cloaks, sashes, dress and other goods of the finest quality. The well-worn shoe and furnishing goods house of John Sunderland is well represented, occupying one-third of the south case, which is filled with first-class goods such as he always carries.

It would cross the brain of any one to attempt to enumerate the many articles of needle work, etching and ornamental work that follows Sunderland's. The JOURNAL has before noticed the work of the Orphan's Home. The exhibit in clay moulding should be a lesson to the educators, and teach them that the hand and eye can be cultivated to formulate what the mind conceives, and that there is more in education than in Poll Parrot training. The needle work of these little ones will compare favorably with that of those who had a home education, and some of it, for exactness and uniformity of stitch, excel anything in the Pavilion. Miss Gibbs presents a commendable line of fancy goods such as only ladies can truly appreciate. The fine case exhibited by O. M. Fassett can be taken as evidence that, as a druggist and assayer, he is fully equipped for his work. This is backed by a less elaborate exhibit by S. J. Hodgkinson & Co. Messrs. Oakes & Sessions make a good display of one branch of their business, that of furniture, which is backed by Neudham's show in this same line and willow ware. The space set apart for Brookins is a parlor lined with organs and pianos, which at intervals is filled with the music loving who entertain the passers by. Of the furniture exhibitors, John Brunner, of Sacramento, an old patron of our fairs, makes the largest and finest display. His collection consists of bedroom sets, lounges, willow and upholstered chairs, desks, sideboards, tables and library furniture. The north case is more than full of ladies' artistic work, representing the needle and brush, in the shape of all kinds of pillows, cushions, toilet sets, banners, ladies' wear, crazy work, painted table scarfs, crocheted garments, etched tablecloths, napkins, hand made lace, painted ware and innumerable other articles. Two much credit cannot be given to the "Women's Art and Industrial Association, of Carson, for their contribution to the attractions at the Pavilion. The Association fills over forty-five feet of the west end of the north case with every conceivable kind of needle work, including all classes of embroidery, Kensington, aasena, chenille and ribbon work, with ornamental spreads, piano and table covers, tidies, hand painted cushions, pillows, lace work, etching on kid, painting on ivory and bolting cloth. The display of decorated ware is of the most artistic character. The work is not of transfer but legitimate hand painted china. The section of the south wall set apart to the Association is covered with work possessing the merit of real art. It consists of paintings, landscapes, flowers, fruits, portraits, plush and satin banners, plaques and panels. In the case below was needle work consisting of a crazy quilt made by a lady over fifty, linen pillow shams etched in India ink, table mats, scarfs and a little of almost everything to which woman can apply her deft fingers. Mrs. Governor Stevenson, Mrs. Torp and Miss Olive Bray represented the Association, and executed their charge with the greatest of success. The arrangement of the combinations in the cases and on the walls are of such a character as to produce the best effect, in gratifying the eyes of the spectators. The Trinity Church Guild occupied the northwest corner of the Pavilion, and made a liberal display of various classes of needle work, much of which was of the highest order. One of the most beautiful exhibits is the blue satin scarf embroidered with a spray of roses and handsomely finished. The Guild has many other beautiful and useful articles, all of which are for sale. Of the paintings and crayon work, J. B. Monica makes the largest display. Without making a comparison, many of his pieces have more than passing merit. His "Carrying Christ to the Sepulcher," is a rare piece of crayon work. Seven persons are represented in the picture, which is probably his master-piece. The attitudes and expressions fitting the occasion, with the draping of the various personages, have been brought out with a strength and fidelity, that is evidence not only of a conception of art but of rare execution. There is only one exhibit of photographic work. Mr. Evans' display consists of photographs of persons and landscapes, and in faithfulness and finish is hard to excel. The I X L Clothing Emporium made the only showing of gentlemen's wear, other than that made by Sunderland in his line. There are many articles worthy of special mention, but it is impossible to enumerate everything where there is so much. In conclusion the Pavilion is a success, and the thanks of the public are due to the managers for the faithful manner in which they performed their arduous duties.

EAST LYNN.—This play was produced last evening at the Nevada Theatre for the first time by the Webster-Brady Co. The story is too well known to require any detail of the plot, suffice to say that the performance passed off in a manner highly creditable. The principal character in the play, "Sir Francis Levison," was well sustained by Geo. P. Webster. He played the part with quiet force and dignity that was in entire keeping with the character assumed. The points were well taken. "Lady Isabel," afterwards "Madame Vine," was well played by Miss Charlotte Tittel. This is an extremely difficult character to play, but it was well carried out. Miss Laura Biggar as "Barbara Hare," appeared to the best advantage, and in fact the whole company was on its mettle and gave a fine performance of the play. This afternoon at 2 o'clock, a grand ladies' and children's matinee, on which occasion "Hazel Kirke" will be repeated by special request. In the evening "The Pavements of Paris."

SOME OF ITS ATTRIBUTES.—The Reno correspondent of the Virginia Enterprise observes the following facts: "The Webster and Brady Dramatic Company have made a fine hit during the week at the Reno Opera House, having full houses every night. Manager Piper is prosperous and happy. Reno's water, from Truckee river, which has borne such a bad name during the summer months from the fermentation of the sawdust in it, has been much improved by filtering on a large scale, and is wholesome and good, a point appreciated by all Concomstockers and other outsiders. Reno's whisky and beer are also pronounced to be good and her people well disposed and hospitable."

THE NEXT ATTRACTION.—The town is being thoroughly billed for "Ranch 10," the next attraction to be produced at the Nevada Theatre by Osbourne & Stockwell's Co. These two actors are well and favorably known in this circuit. Of their production of this piece the S. F. Post says:

"The production of Harry Meredith's melodrama of Western life, 'Ranch 10,' was witnessed last night by a large audience. It was cast with judgment, therefore well played. Messrs. Geo. Osbourne and L. R. Stockwell were excellent in their impersonations. The play pleased the large audience, and is a pronounced success. There are some old tricks in it, also much that is vigorous and pleasing, so one can readily understand its success."

FOR BLAINE.—Capt. Dan Lyons, who is well known in Nevada, is now editing a paper in Honolulu. The Captain has spread his eagle for Blaine in the following language: "The 'Eagle' candidate for President of the United States, James G. Blaine, America's greatest statesman. The above nomination is suggested to the Republican party of the State of Nevada, who stood true as steel in the campaigns of 1880 and 1884, and we have no doubt of their doing so, in the greatest of all campaigns, that of 1888. Help nominate Blaine for President, and we promise to pay you a friendly visit."

INFORMATION WANTED.—Governor Stevenson has received a letter from George Raymond, dated Kilpatrick, Castle Island, Kerry county, Ireland, September 8, 1887, asking for information concerning one James Walsh, who left that county six or seven years ago. The writer says it is important to know whether Walsh is living or dead. A letter was received from Thomas Enright by Michael Walsh, father of James, in 1882, stating that he and James Walsh left Idaho for Nevada, that on the way they met six robbers and that James Walsh was killed. Does any one know anything of the circumstances?

SLUICING.—Thursday a force of men were put on the site of the old Consolidated Virginia battery mill with a complete outfit for sluicing. All the surface dirt on the site of the old mill will be sluiced for quicksilver and amalgam. The work of sluicing was watched with considerable interest by a crowd of old-time California miners. It will not take them long to find out if they have discovered pay-dirt or not, nor will it take them long to get through with all they have to do there, as the bank is very limited.

THE AMENDMENT DEFEATED.—Yesterday Tennessee voted upon the prohibition amendment of the Constitution. The election passed off quietly. The feature of it was the presence of ladies at the polls working and pleading with the voters to cast their ballots for the amendment. Lunches, with hot coffee, were served by them at the polling places. The returns being incomplete the fate is not yet established, but indications are that it is defeated. The colored population, as a class, voted against

BREVITIES.

Natchez raised 400 sacks of grain on his ranch near Lovelock. A scowman named Hopkins sold the grain and then offered Natchez $50 for his share of the proceeds, which he refused.

The printers of Portland, Or., who are employed in the job offices have notified their employers that, under a resolution passed by the International Typographical Union, nine hours shall constitute a day's work after November 1st.

An iron and brick building, three stories high, is to be erected in Los Angeles by a panorama company at a cost of $90,000. The "Siege of Paris" and other panoramic views are to be exhibited on a grand scale. The property is 128x318 feet in size, and the price paid was $1,000 per front foot.

If people who attend the Theater would think that others go there to listen to the play and sit still during the acts, troupes that visit our town would be able to render their parts in a better manner. The noise in the theater last evening was very annoying to those who wished to hear, and also unnecessary.

The Grand Lodge of the A. O. U. W., of Nevada, found it necessary to levy but one assessment of one dollar each on the membership of this jurisdiction for September. The Order is in a flourishing condition. The maximum number of assessments in the Nevada Jurisdiction has been fixed at 23 for the year of 1887. A decrease of one from the rate of 1886.

Union Revival services will be commenced between the Baptist and Methodist Churches this coming Sabbath. Rev. D. L. Chubbuck and wife, the singing Evangelists from California, will be present and conduct the services. The meetings will commence on Sabbath Oct. 2d, at 11 A. M., at the M. E. Church, and at the Baptist in the evening at 7 P. M. A general invitation is extended to all.

R. E. Davis, a drummer traveling for B. Friedlander's clothing house of San Francisco, shot and instantly killed himself Tuesday night in Luk-vue, Or. It is said that he had been gambling and lost some of Friedlander's money, and having been recalled to San Francisco by a telegram from his employer, chose death rather than to return. He was a married man, and his widow is now in San Jose. Davis was well thought of and had many friends on his route.

A dispatch from Hawthorne, Nev., says that J. N. Woodhouse, who was murdered near Bishop Creek six months ago, was a successful mining man, and a soldier in the Union army. No efforts have been made by the authorities to ferret out the criminals and bring them to justice or to recover the remains of the missing man. By concerted action of loyal citizens and aid of higher authority other than local, link by link the chain of proof is being carefully wrought and it is but a matter of time when the grapple will be complete.

AT THE TRACK.—There was a splendid attendance at the track yesterday. The riding of the ladies was again admired, and the hurdle jumping by Miss Winters, Miss Noyes and Miss McIntosh called out loud applause. The decision of the Judges was announced at the Pavilion last night, as follows: First prize to Miss Winters, second to Mrs. Elliott, third to Miss McIntosh, fourth to Miss Noyes, and special prizes of equal value to Miss Raymons, Miss Ferguson and Miss Sava. Miss J. Kempler did not compete for a prize, as she was awarded the first prize in 1885, and is recognized by all as the most graceful and accomplished lady rider on the coast. For her exhibition she will be presented with a souvenir by the Society. The Indian pony race was won by the boy, amid the hurrahs of all the small boys on the track. The five-eighths dash was won by Mollie McShane, and the colt race by Al Farrow. The race between Ned, Franklin, Clara G and Sensation was hotly contested for in six heats, Franklin being the winner. Best time 2:52 1/4. To-day will be the wind-up, and an interesting programme has been arranged. There will be trotting and running races, a squaw race, a novelty race, saddle horse race, balloon ascension, and other attractions. The stock parade will take place at 11 sharp.

LINCOLN COUNTY.—The citizens of Southern Lincoln county are turning their attention to cotton raising. A crop of 43 acres has been cultivated this season, which gave a magnificent yield. In many parts of that county the olive, lemon, orange and other delicate fruits have been successfully raised on a small scale. Lincoln county, in time, will prove to be not only a mineral producing country, but the valleys will be sought after for fruit raising.

PROSPECTORS AT WORK.—The Report says: It is said that a number of prospectors are hovering about the lower end of American Flat. It is thought by many that the place contains promising prospects. Chas. Brant, who recently died there, knew of a ledge of very rich ore, and came here expressly to work it. Several men prospected around there, and sometimes struck very rich pockets. No doubt but there is a quantity of ore thereabouts.

A BENEFIT.—The Reno Orchestra will give Mrs. Alt a benefit to-night. Everybody should go and do their part. Mrs. Alt has contributed her part to the welfare of terpsichorean in Reno, and they now have an opportunity of reciprocating. Go everybody and patronize the lady who has done so much for the pleasure seekers of Reno.

WIDE AWAKE.—Yuba and Sutter counties, California, have issued a 120-page pamphlet, setting forth their resources, advantages and opportunities. The work is written and compiled by C. E. Williams, Esq., the Secretary of the Bureau of Immigration of these two counties, and is published under and by the authority of the Immigration Bureau. Twenty-five thousand copies of these pamphlets have been issued, and will be scattered broadcast.

COAL HUNGER.—The Silver State says: The agent of the Rocky Mountain Coal Company has been along here and notified dealers that an advance of one dollar per ton of 2,000 pounds in coal has been made at the mines. This was expected, as coal and lumber companies invariably advance the price of their commodities when the rate of transportation is reduced by the railroad company.

A TOWN GOVERNMENT.—Windmucca is agitating the question of a town government. At a recent meeting of the citizens a committee was appointed to confer with the inhabitants relative thereto. The main object of this action is to provide for the proper care of the streets and to abate certain nuisances.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Sore Throat Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Sore Throat Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. (See Adver. in this issue.)

BEATS THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY.—For the next sixty days all those who purchase one dollar's worth of groceries at Havenor's Cash Store will receive a ticket in a drawing for a fine gold watch. This is certainly a liberal proposition and all groceries sold at this establishment are fresh and of the best quality, and are disposed of at the lowest retail prices. All goods are warranted and if not as represented the purchase price will be refunded. Go and take your chances in the watch.

The people of Reno and vicinity are now offered a good opportunity to have an excellent portrait made of any style or size, and at very moderate prices. Attention is called to my display of pictures at the pavilion. Studio over Sunderland's shoe store, Virginia street, Reno. J. B. Monaco, Artist.

What is It That produces that beautifully soft complexion and leaves no trace of its application or injurious effects? Winslow's Sore Throat Syrup for Children Teething. It is the most beautiful toilet article ever produced. Warrented harmless and reliable. S. J. HODGKINSON & CO., Agents, Va. St., Reno, Nev., my 24 lyf

THE PAVILION.

The JOURNAL reporter scanned the lower floor of the Pavilion, a report of which appeared in yesterday's JOURNAL. While the articles exhibited there have their uses, for the really beautiful, the visitor has to go upstairs. There are always attractive, and on reaching the second story the reporter was drawn to the left. Mrs. Hartung presided over the case of candies that would rival those of Parisian make. They represented almost every form from the chocolate, bon bons, marsh mallow, and candies and an innumerable display of taffies. Under a card of "Nevada Cracker Bakery," was a case of crackers and cakes that would suit the taste of the most fastidious epicure. The specimens of wedding cakes were numerous, and the ornamentations of the most attractive character. Next along the wall is a fine display of undertaking goods, and adjacent is a collection of bouquets from dried native flowers prepared by H. F. Rhodes, of Truckee. The familiar quilts, crocheted robes, rugs, needle work, paintings on velvet and other materials, crayons, among which is the truthful face of Sam Davis, editor of the Carson Appeal, covered the south wall, near which stood a case in which is a most exquisite set of white satin, ornamented by figures and flowers put there by a knowing hand. The southwest corner is ornamented by a display of elaborate needle work, the chief among which was a fine screen, and an embroidered black silk dress. On either side of this are organs and pianos of superior make. Near by is the tasteful selection of goods from the store of F. Levy & Bro. This exhibit consists of carpets, rugs, curtains, ladies' cloaks, socks, dress and other goods of the finest quality. The wide-awake shoe and furnishing goods house of John Sunderland is well represented, occupying one-third of the south case, which is filled with first-class goods such as he always carries.

It would cross the brain of any one to attempt to enumerate the many articles of needle work, etching and ornamental work that follows Sunderland's. The JOURNAL has before noticed the work of the Orphans' Home. The exhibit in clay moulding should be a lesson to the educators, and teach them that the hand and eye can be cultivated to formulate what the mind conceives, and that there is more in education than in Poi Parrot training. The needle work of these little ones will compare favorably with that of those who had a home education, and some of it, for exactness and uniformity of stitch, excel anything in the Pavilion. Miss Gibbs presents a commendable line of fancy goods such as only ladies can fully appreciate. The fine case exhibited by C. M. Fassett can be taken as evidence that, as a druggist and apothecary, he is fully equipped for his work. This is backed by a less elaborate exhibit by S. J. Hodgkinson & Co. Messrs. Oakes & Sessions make a good display of one branch of their business, that of furniture, which is backed by Needham's show in this same line and willow ware. The space set apart for Brookins is a parlor lined with organs and pianos, which at intervals is filled with the music loving who entertain the passers by. Of the furniture exhibitors, John Bruever, of Sacramento, an old patron of our Fairs, makes the largest and finest display. His collection consists of bedroom sets, lounges, willow and upholstered chairs, desks, sideboards, tables and library furniture. The north case is more than full of ladies' artistic work, representing the needle and brush, in the shape of all kinds of pillows, cushions, toilet sets, banners, ladies' wear, crazy work, painted table scarves, crocheted garments, etched tablecloths, napkins, hand made laces, painted ware and innumerable other articles. Too much credit cannot be given to the Women's Art and Industrial Association, of Carson, for their contribution to the attractions at the Pavilion. The Association fills over forty-five feet of the west end of the north case with every conceivable kind of needle work, including all classes of embroidery, Kensington, arasene, chenille and ribbon work, with ornamental spreads, piano and table covers, tidies, hand painted cushions, pillows, lace work, etching on kid, painting on ivory and bolting cloth. The display of decorated ware is of the most artistic character. The work is not of transfer but legitimate hand painted china. The section of the south wall set apart to the Association is covered with work possessing the merit of real art. It consists of paintings, landscapes, flowers, fruits, portraits, plush and satin banners, plaques and panels. In the case below was needle work consisting of a crazy quilt made by a lady over fifty, linen pulow shams etched in India ink, table mats, scarfs and a little of almost everything to which woman can apply her deft fingers. Mrs. Governor Stevenson, Mrs. Torp and Miss Ollie Bray represented the Association, and executed their charge with the greatest of success. The arrangement of the combinations in the cases and on the walls are of such a character as to produce the best effect, in gratifying the eyes of the spectators. The Trinity Church Guild occupied the northwest corner of the Pavilion, and made a liberal display of various classes of needle work, much of which was of the highest order. One of the most beautiful exhibits is the blue satin scarf embroidered with a spray of roses and handsomely finished. The Guild has many other beautiful and useful articles, all of which are for sale. Of the paintings and crayon work, J. B. Monica makes the largest display. Without making a comparison, many of his pieces have more than passing merit. His "Carrying Christ to the Sepulcher," is a rare piece of crayon work. Seven persons are represented in the picture, which is probably his master-piece. The attitudes and expressions fitting the occasion, with the draping of the various personages, have been brought out with a strength and fidelity, that is evidence not only of a conception of art but of rare execution. There is only one exhibitor of photographic work. Mr. Evans' display consists of photographs of persons and landscapes, and in faithfulness and finish is hard to excel. The I X L Clothing Emporium made the only showing of gentlemen's wear, other than that made by Sunderland in his line. There are many articles worthy of special mention, but it is impossible to enumerate everything where there is so much. In conclusion the Pavilion is a success, and the thanks of the public are due to the managers for the faithful manner in which they performed their arduous duties.

EAST LYNN.—This play was produced last evening at the Nevada Theatre for the first time by the Webster-Brady Co. The story is too well known to require any detail of the plot, suffice to say that the performance passed off in a manner highly creditable. The principal character in the play, "Sir Francis Levison," was well sustained by Geo. P. Webster. He played the part with quiet force and dignity that was in entire keeping with the character assumed. The points were well taken. "Lady Isabel," afterwards "Madame Vine," was well played by Miss Charlotte Tittel. This is an extremely difficult character to play, but it was well carried out. Miss Laura Bigger as "Barbara Hare," appeared to the best advantage, and in fact the whole company was on its mettle and gave a fine performance of the play. This afternoon at 2 o'clock, a grand ladies' and children's matinee, on which occasion "Hazel Kirke" will be repeated by special request. In the evening "The Pavements of Paris."

SOME OF ITS ATTRACTIONS.—The Reno correspondent of the Virginia Enterprise observes the following facts: "The Webster and Brady Dramatic Company have made a fine hit during the week at the Reno Opera House, having full houses every night. Manager Piper is prosperous and happy. Reno's water, from Truckee river, which has borne such a bad name during the Summer months from the fermentation of the sawdust in it, has been much improved by filtering on a large scale, and is wholesome and good, a point appreciated by all Comstockers and other outsiders. Reno's whisky and beer are also pronounced to be good and her people well disposed and hospitable."

THE NEXT ATTRACTION.—The town is being thoroughly billed for "Ranch 10," the next attraction to be produced at the Nevada Theatre by Osbourne & Stockwell's Co. These two actors are well and favorably known in this circuit. Of their production of this piece the S. F. Post says: "The production of Harry Meredith's melodrama of Western life, 'Ranch 10,' was witnessed last night by a large audience. It was cast with judgment, therefore, well played. Messrs. Geo. Osbourne and L. H. Stockwell were excellent in their impersonations. The play pleased the large audience, and is a pronounced success. There are some old tricks in it, also much that is vigorous and pleasing, so one can readily understand its success."

FOR BLAINE.—Capt. Dan Lyons, who is well known in Nevada, is now editing a paper in Honolulu. The Captain has spread his eagle for Blaine in the following language: "The 'Elele' candidate for President of the United States, James G. Blaine, America's greatest statesman. The above nomination is suggested to the Republican party of the State of Nevada, who stood true as steel in the campaigns of 1880 and 1884, and we have no doubt of their doing so, in the greatest of all campaigns, that of 1888. Help nominate Blaine for President, and we promise to pay you a friendly visit."

INFORMATION WANTED.—Governor Stevenson has received a letter from George Raymond, dated Kilmory, Castle Island, Kerry county, Ireland, September 6, 1887, asking for information concerning one James Walsh, who left that county six or seven years ago. The writer says it is important to know whether Walsh is living or dead. A letter was received from Thomas Enright by Michael Walsh, father of James, in 1882, stating that he and James Walsh left Idaho for Nevada, that on the way they met six robbers and that James Walsh was killed. Does any one know anything of the circumstances?

SLEUTHS.—Thursday a force of men were put on the site of the old Consolidated Virginia battery mill with a complete outfit for sifting. All the surface dirt on the site of the old mill will be sluiced for quicksilver and amalgam. The work of sluicing was watched with considerable interest by a crowd of old-time California miners. It will not take them long to find out if they have discovered pay-dirt or not, nor will it take them long to get through with all they have to do there, as the bank is very limited.

THE AMENDMENT DEFEATED.—Yesterday Tennessee voted upon the prohibition amendment of the Constitution. The election passed off quietly. The feature of it was the presence of ladies at the polls working and pleading with the voters to cast their ballots for the amendment. Lunches, with hot coffee, were served by them at the polling places. The returns being incomplete the fate is not fully established, but indications are that it is defeated. The colored population, as a class, voted against Natchez raised 400 sacks of grain on his ranch near Lovelock. A scawag while man named Hopkins sold the grain and then offered Natchez $50 for his share of the proceeds, which he refused.

The printers of Portland, Or., who are employed in the job offices have notified their employers that, under a resolution passed by the International Typographical Union, nine hours shall constitute a day's work after November 1st.

An iron and brick building, three stories high, is to be erected in Los Angeles by a panorama company at a cost of $30,000. The "Siege of Paris" and other panoramic views are to be exhibited on a grand scale. The property is 128x318 feet in size, and the price paid was $1,000 per front foot.

If people who attend the Theater would think that others go there to listen to the play and sit still during the acts, troupes that visit our town would be able to render their parts in a better manner. The noise in the theater last evening was very annoying to those who wished to hear, and also unnecessary.

The Grand Lodge of the A. O. U. W., of Nevada, found it necessary to levy but one assessment of one dollar each on the membership of this jurisdiction for September. The Order is in a flourishing condition. The maximum number of assessments in the Nevada Jurisdiction has been fixed at 23 for the year of 1897. A decrease of one from the rate of 1885.

Union Revival services will be commenced between the Baptist and Methodist Churches this coming Sabbath. Rev. D. L. Obenbuck and wife, the singing Evangelists from California, will be present and conduct the services. The meetings will commence on Sabbath Oct. 23, at 11 a. m., at the M. E. Church, and at the Baptist in the evening at 7 p. m. A general invitation is extended to all.

R. E. Davis, a drummer traveling for B. Friedlander's clothing house of San Francisco, shot and instantly killed himself Tuesday night in Larkview, Or. It is said that he had been gambling and lost some of Friedlander's money, and having been recalled to San Francisco by a telegram from his employer, chose death rather than to return. He was a married man, and his widow is now in San Jose. Davis was well thought of and had many friends on his route.

A dispatch from Hawthorne, Nev., says that J. N. Woodhouse, who was murdered near Bishop Creek six months ago, was a successful mining man, and a soldier in the Union army. No efforts have been made by the authorities to ferret out the criminals and bring them to justice or to recover the remains of the missing man. By concerted action of loyal citizens and aid of higher authority other than local, link by link the chain of proof is being carefully wrought and it is but a matter of time when the grapples will be complete.

AT THE TRACK.—There was a splendid attendance at the track yesterday. The riding of the ladies was again admired, and the hurdle jumping by Miss Winters, Miss Noyes and Miss McIntosh called out loud applause. The decision of the Judges was announced at the Pavilion last night, as follows: First prize to Miss Winters, second to Mrs. Elliott, third to Miss McIntosh, fourth to Miss Noyes, and special prizes of equal value to Miss Raymons, Miss Ferguson and Miss Suva. Miss J. Kempler did not compete for a prize, as she was awarded the first prize in 1886, and is recognized by all as the most graceful and accomplished lady rider on the coast. For her exhibition she will be presented with a souvenir by the Society. The Indian pony race was won by the boy, amid the hurrahs of all the small boys on the track. The five-eighths dash was won by Mollie McShane, and the colt race by Al Farrow. The race between Ned, Franklin, Clara G and Sensation was hotly contested for in six heats, Franklin being the winner. Best time 2:32 1/2. To-day will be the wind-up, and an interesting programme has been arranged. There will be trotting and running races, a square race, a novelty race, saddle horse race, balloon ascension, and other attractions. The stock parade will take place at 11 sharp.

LINCOLN COUNTY.—The citizens of Southern Lincoln county are turning their attention to cotton-raising. A crop of 43 acres has been cultivated this season, which gave a magnificent yield. In many parts of that county the olive, lemon, orange and other delicate fruits have been successfully raised on a small scale.
